Victoria County History

http://www.victoriacountyhistory.ac.uk/counties/leicestershire

The aim of the Victoria County History (VCH) is to produce a reference history of every town, village and hamlet in England from earliest times to the date of publication. Five volumes have been completed for Leicestershire: Three general volumes cover county-wide topics, such as Leicestershire's religious houses, political history and agrarian history, volume IV covers the history of the individual parishes in the city of Leicester and volume V provides parish histories for Market Harborough and 48 villages around it (the former Gartree Hundred). This site provides links to the digitised text of some published volumes, including the whole of volumes IV and V. Draft parish history sections for future volumes are added to the Work in Progress pages as they are completed.

VCH Explore

http://www.victoriacountyhistory.ac.uk/explore/

This national site includes transcripts of more than two hundred 17th-century probate inventories relating to parishes currently being researched for future Leicestershire volumes of the Victoria County History. There are also short pieces about the history of some of Leicestershire's towns and villages.
