10. Progression points

This programme follows the standard Scheme of Progression set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

In cases where a student has failed to meet a requirement to progress he or she will be required to withdraw from the course and a recommendation will be made to the Board of Examiners for an intermediate award where appropriate.

Year abroad addition: Progression onto the year abroad variant is dependent on academic performance. Students must normally be achieving grades in the 2.1 category. At the end of the year abroad, students should normally have gained credits for 60 ECTS (equivalent to 120 Leicester credits). The minimum requirement is to pass 40 ECTS credits. Should the student fail to do so, they will have the opportunity to complete the requirements to undertake their third year to gain credits for a normal BSc Criminology.

a) Course transfers

Students wishing to transfer to year 2 of the BSc pathway would need to have studied and passed introductory criminology modules at year 1. Students wishing to take the year abroad need to transfer to the BSc Criminology with Year Abroad programme at the start of year 2.

11. Criteria for award and classification

This programme follows the standard scheme of undergraduate award and classification set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

12. Special features

The programme is completely delivered by the School of Criminology and its academic members of staff with the curriculum being underpinned by research from within the School.

The course includes a core year 1 module, Criminal Justice in Action, which is tailored to students' employability needs. The School also offers a number of additional courses in employability and careers development, including career planning, volunteering, interview techniques, CV writing, preparing applications and how students can market themselves. The course also offers students the opportunity to meet practitioners in their field during lectures, seminars and additional sessions run in conjunction with the student Criminology Society. The 'Student Placement Project' core year 3 module offer the students the option to conduct a placement as part of the module. This allows students to gain valuable experience of working in an environment relevant to criminal justice and encourages them to deliver their findings in a professional way (via written documentation or oral presentation). Students are supported by academic staff throughout this module.

The course has a clear focus on Research Methods, with 60 credits in the second year dedicated to Understanding and Doing Criminological Research and 60 credits in the third year – 30 of which are on a specially designed module enabling students to prepare for their dissertation, titled 'Being a Criminologist' and 30 credits for the 'Student Research Project' or 'Student Placement Project'. The BSc includes a programme of non-credit bearing activities called 'Succeed in your Studies' which offer learning and teaching around: study skills, information literacy skills, course-specific skills, employability skills, and extra-curricular activities. This programme runs throughout the first and second years of the programme and will enhance students learning experience. BSc Criminology (with a year abroad), will offer places for students on the BSc Criminology to undertake a year abroad (currently at VU Amsterdam, or the University of Oslo).

- University Employability Strategy
- Periodic Developmental Review Reports (2019)
- External examiners' reports
- First Destinations Data
- Student feedback (NSS 2019 and previous years)
- Annual Developmental Review (2019 and previous years)

The Research Excellence Framework (REF) 2014 results show that vast majority of research within the School of Criminology was judged to be of global significance. 85% of our research activity was rated as world-leading or internationally excellent. The School also demonstrated the strong public impact of its research with 100% being judged internationally excellent.

The Destination of Leavers from Higher Education (DELHE) data shows that 97% graduates are in employment, or a combination of study and employment 6 months after graduation.

We deliver undergraduate teaching to the highest standards with National Student Survey (NSS) feedback indicating excellent student satisfaction. In the NSS return for 2019 we scored 95% overall and scored higher than the sector average on all aspects of School provision.

BSc Criminology with Year Abroad addition: full and clear feedback to study abroad co-ordinator is provided before, during and after study abroad sessions.
