10. Special features

This programme is designed specifically with intercalating medical students in mind. The programme is intended to be studied between the third and fourth year of a medical degree. As such, the timetable for this course will be slightly compressed. In order to allow intercalating medical students to return to the fourth year of their medical degrees it is anticipated that dissertations will be handed in in mid August. To allow for this no second term modules have examinations and three of the four modules including research methods for healthcare managers will be taught in block formats. This will mean that students can start working on their dissertations relatively early (late in the second term) and not have to participate in the exam period meaning they should have adequate time to complete the dissertation.

11. Indicators of programme quality

Academic quality will be maintained by adhering to School practice and University regulations. Programmes are carefully planned and reviewed internally on a yearly basis through the ADR mechanism. External examiners of programme content and marking will provide external validation and comparison to programmes offered by competitors. Coordination and alignment between the programme teaching team and professional services ensures a consistent and high quality academic experience for the students.

12. Criteria for award and classification

This programme follows the standard scheme of taught postgraduate award and classification set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 6 governing taught postgraduate programmes of study relevant to year of entry.

13. Progression points
