10. Special features

Specialisms

Students may choose to pursue an MBA with a named specialism. If a student registers for a particular specialism in their MBA, successfully completes the core modules, the option module approved for this specialism, and the MBA project in that specialism, s/he will be awarded an MBA with this specialism

Attendance and participation

Students are required to complete at least 500 hours of interaction between the student cohort and faculty, of which at least 120 hours should be completed through synchronous ('real time') interaction and the remainder should be completed through asynchronous ('non-real time') interaction.

Students can achieve at least 120 hours of synchronous interaction through attendance at and participation in residential workshops, online seminars and the Leicester Masterclass.

Students can achieve the balance of 500 contact hours in asynchronous interaction through participation in online lectures and online discussion forums.

Leicester Masterclass

Students are required to attend Leicester Masterclass at the University of Leicester School of Business once throughout the duration of their studies on the programme. Students who are unable to attend Leicester Masterclass in person will be required to complete an online version of Leicester Masterclass

Career Management and Development Programme

Students are required to engage with the Career Management and Development Programme

Career Management and Development Programme is a co-curricular element of the Leicester MBA programme, which runs alongside the curricular elements throughout the programme

11. Indicators of programme quality

(a) Accreditation references

The programme is accredited by the Association of MBAs and adheres to the Association of MBAs Accreditation Criteria

- Association of MBAs \(2016\) MBA Accreditation Criteria. London: Association of Masters in Business Administration

(b) Benchmark QAA

The programme adheres to the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education Subject Benchmark Statement for Master's Degrees in Business and Management

- The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education \(2015\) Subject Benchmark Statement. Master's Degrees in Business and Management. \(QAA1235 - June 15\). Gloucester, UK: The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education

12. Scheme of Assessment

As defined in Senate Regulation 6: Regulations governing taught postgraduate programmes of study.

In addition, as stipulated by the Association of MBAs MBA Accreditation Criteria (2016), to be considered for the award of MBA degree, a student must have accumulated at least 120 synchronous contact hours throughout the course of studies on the programme.

13. Progression points

As defined in Senate Regulation 6: Regulations governing taught postgraduate programmes of study.

Progression Point corresponds to the progression from the Postgraduate Diploma level module to the module MN7709 Organisational Research and Consultancy Methods and the MBA Project.

In cases where a student has failed to meet a requirement to progress he or she will be required to withdraw from the course and a recommendation will be made to the Board of Examiners for an intermediate award where appropriate.

Postgraduate Diploma level module is an option module, chosen from the three option modules: MN7704, MN7705 and MN7707

A student's progress will be reviewed at the completion of the option module and the module MN7708 Learning and Professional Development Portfolio. All modules must be attempted and a pass grade achieved for MN7708 Learning and Professional Development Portfolio before a student can progress.

In accordance with Senate Regulations 6.29, the following progression rules apply

Taught module credits failed at first attempt where there has been no resubmission to date	Progression rule
Up to 30 credits	A student will proceed to MN7709 and is entitled to re-sit failed modules, at the earliest opportunity. A student will be advised that s/he may take a period of academic suspense in which to complete the reassessment. A pass grade for MN7708 must be achieved before a student can progress.
31-60 credits	A student will not proceed to MN7709 and is entitled to re-sit failed modules, up to the maximum credit value of 60 credits, at the earliest opportunity. A student will

	be advised to take a period of academic suspense in which to complete the reassessment. If, after reassessment, a student has up to 30 credits of failed modules, s/he will be allowed to progress to MN7709. A pass grade for MN7708 must be achieved before a student can progress. If, after reassessment, a student has more than 30 credits of failed modules, s/he will not be allowed to progress to MN7709 and shall be considered at the next meeting of the Board of Examiners. Where the number of credits failed is such that the student has a sufficient number to meet the requirements for an intermediate award, a Board of Examiners shall consider the student's performance and recommend an appropriate intermediate award. Where the number of credits failed is such that the student does not have a sufficient number to meet the requirements for an intermediate award, a Board of Examiners shall consider the student's performance and withdraw him/her for academic failure.

Co-curricular programme elements

The programme includes two co-curricular elements: (1) Career Management and Development Programme and (2) Leicester Masterclass

1. Career Management and Development Programme

Career Management and Development (CMD) programme is a co-curricular element of the programme, which aims to develop core career management competencies required of MBA graduates. It is delivered alongside the curricular elements throughout the programme.

The CMD programme has the following Intended Learning Outcomes:

- 1) To explain, with application to careers in general management, the current trends in jobs, careers, employment contracts, and labour markets; the roles of organisation and individual in career management and development; meanings of careers and career building, planning and opportunistic approaches, types of career patterns and paths, work role and career transitions
- 2) To demonstrate awareness of one's own knowledge, skills, abilities, personality and motivations, in relation to career development, and of the ways to assess those and identify strengths, limitations, and opportunities for development
- 3) To establish personal career goals and action plans to achieve those
- 4) To research and use labour market intelligence and identify relevant job opportunities in the internal and external labour markets; identify and use the talent management processes and opportunities for career development and progression within the employing organization
- 5) To identify learning opportunities to acquire competencies required to achieve career goals
- 6) To be able to apply the knowledge of career management to providing guidance to others, within the remit of a general manager role
- 7) To apply the knowledge of HRM processes (recruitment, selection, performance and reward management, training and development) and methods (e.g., selection methods, such as psychometric tests, assessment centres, and interviews) to one's own career development
- 8) To apply the knowledge and skills of oral, written and non-linguistic communication and negotiation in the context of one's own engagement with internal and external recruitment and selection and talent management processes (e.g., job interview, salary negotiation)
- 9) To appreciate the role of professional networking and social media and to effectively engage with professional networks and social media

The CMD programme includes

- (1) scheduled synchronous online seminars and MBA surgeries, which equate to 30 synchronous contact hours throughout the duration of the programme (approximately one hour per month, for the normal period of registration of 30 months);
- (2) one-to-one coaching with the Careers and Professional Development manager;
- (3) self-directed learning using the Professional Development Resource (PDR)<sup>3</sup>.

Students are required to actively engage in the CMD programme through participation in the programme's synchronous online seminars and one-to-one coaching sessions, guided independent study using the Professional Development Resource, authentic performance tasks (e.g., updating the current CV), and reflection on their personal career management and development in the Learning and Professional Development Portfolio.

<sup>3</sup> Professional Development Resource (PDR) is an online career management resource, which includes: CV Builder, Cover Letter Builder and Document Manager, Career Assessment tests, Career Newsroom reporting on the career-related current news from global publications); Career Pathways presenting real-life career stories; Career Planner; resources on Self-Employment (a range of resource on self-employment); Career E-Learning lessons in career related skills; Interview Simulator; Assessment Centre Training; and Industry Reports

2. Leicester Masterclass

Leicester Masterclass is a co-curricular element of the programme.

Leicester Masterclass has two aims:

- (1) to further develop the students' managerial knowledge and skills in the following areas:
  - Managing risk
  - Managing in the digital world
  - Managing data and analytics
  - Managing projects
  - Entrepreneurship and innovation
  - Leadership
- (2) to increase the integration of the MBA student body within and across cohorts and provide opportunities for networking

Leicester Masterclass is held annually at the University of Leicester School of Business.

Leicester Masterclass delivers the minimum of 48 hours of scheduled face-to-face contact between the faculty and the students, across six days, through a structured programme of workshops.

In addition, Leicester Masterclass includes social events, such as Ceilidh and Gala Dinner

Students are required to attend a Leicester Masterclass once throughout the duration of their studies on the programme. Students who are unable to attend Leicester Masterclass in person will be required to complete an online version of Leicester Masterclass
