Direct entry to level 2 is possible, based on level 1 qualifications in a relevant subject or subjects, or equivalent qualifications or experience, and with the approval of the School of Archaeology & Ancient History

7. Programme aims

The programme aims to:

- provide a rigorous, coherent and attractive curriculum that draws on the research expertise and teaching strengths of the School of Archaeology and Ancient History, and of the School of History, Politics and International Relations
- provide a stimulating and challenging learning experience for all students
- develop students' knowledge and understanding of the full chronological and geographical range of their two complementary disciplines
- develop students' abilities to apply historical and archaeological theories, techniques, and concepts to analyse and explain specific periods and themes in Ancient History and later periods of History
- enable students to demonstrate a variety of approaches to understanding the past as used by historians of the ancient world (principally Greece and Rome, but not excluding other ancient cultures of the Mediterranean and western Asia) and of later periods of History
- enable students to develop and demonstrate a range of skills necessary for the study of Ancient History and later periods of History
- enable students to develop and demonstrate a range of transferable skills necessary for successful career development and a lifetime of effective independent learning.

In addition, the Year Abroad aims to:

- expand and broaden the curriculum through engagement with alternative academic traditions
- further deepen students' understanding of the specific periods and themes in Ancient History and History through study in a different academic context
- develop and enhance students' independence, confidence and global outlook
- reinforce the importance of internationalisation

10. Progression points

This programme follows the standard Scheme of Progression set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

In cases where a student has failed to meet a requirement to progress he or she will be required to withdraw from the course

a) Course transfers

The course transfers process is set out here on the University's web pages.

11. Criteria for award and classification

This programme follows the standard scheme of undergraduate award and classification set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

12. Special features

- The student learning experience is enhanced by a commitment to synergy between research and teaching.
- Students taking the programme have the option of a Year Abroad. The School participates in two exchange schemes: the first is based on a network of European universities, the second involves links with Canadian and Australian Universities (Study Abroad Scheme).

13. Indications of programme quality

The School of Archaeology & Ancient History's research is regularly classed as 'world-leading' or 'internationally excellent', placing us in the top half-dozen Ancient History and Archaeology departments in the UK. We deliver undergraduate and master's teaching to the highest standards with National Student Survey feedback indicating outstanding student satisfaction. The School of History, Politics and International Relations includes one of the largest groups of historians in the UK. It is rated excellent for teaching by TQA and its research is regularly classed as 'world-leading' and 'internationally excellent'.

Graduates of this degree programme take postgraduate taught courses and pursue research degrees at Leicester and many other universities. Many take Master's courses at Leicester or elsewhere; many have entered teaching or heritage careers; and many enter graduate employment soon after graduation.

14. External Examiner(s) reports

The details of the External Examiner(s) for this programme and the most recent External Examiners' reports for this programme can be found at exam-papers [log-in required]
