12a. Research-inspired Education

Students on this programme will advance through the four quadrants of the University of Leicester Research-inspired Education Framework as follows:

RiE Quadrant	Narrative
Research-briefed Bringing staff research content into the curriculum.	The Economics programmes provide a comprehensive foundation in the knowledge and skills essential for economics professionals. It equips students to think critically, solve problems, and assess potential solutions to real-world economic challenges. The curriculum is grounded in current economic research, ensuring that the knowledge and skills acquired by graduates meet professional standards. Research briefed – Programme content is shaped and inspired by the latest research, drawing on contributions from Applied Microeconomics, Econometrics, Industrial Organization, and Macroeconomics research groups at the University of Leicester. All staff are experienced researchers who bring their expertise into their teaching.
Research-based Framed enquiry for exploring existing knowledge.	Research based – Students will be challenged to analyse various economic problems using the theories and methods they have learned. They will apply their theoretical knowledge and data analysis skills across different contexts.
Research-oriented Students critique published research content and process.	Research oriented – Students are equipped with tools and are required to critically evaluate lecture content, seminar analyses, assessments, and published academic research.
Research-apprenticed Experiencing the research process and methods; building new knowledge.	Research apprenticed – Students receive training and practice in writing for various audiences, collaborative work, oral presentation, and academic literacy. Working individually and in teams, students will present findings from their critical appraisals and data analyses.

As part of studying at a research-intensive university, students on this programme have the following extra or co-curricular opportunities available to them to gain exposure to research culture:

Research seminars and workshops are timetabled on a weekly basis across the College of Business and are accessible to all students within the College. These sessions focus not only on potential research outputs and working papers from academic staff within the College but also on the processes underpinning research and associated funding and dissemination of work.

Teaching on this programme will be research-informed (it draws consciously on systematic inquiry into the teaching and learning process itself) in the following way:

The School supports all staff involved in teaching to gain an accredited Higher Education teaching qualification, in which they demonstrate their use of teaching theory to support their own practice and reflect on their current teaching and continuing professional development.

All module leaders and teaching focused staff and members of not only their subject specific research group but also the College's Academy of Business Education and Practice. The Academy runs regular sessions including external speakers and workshops for reflection on teaching practices and sharing of best practice. The Academy also facilitates a reading group which provides an informal environment to discuss contemporary pedagogic issues.

The Academy underpins a teaching and learning research culture which provides staff with a clear platform to share and evaluate current and potential practice-based activities within the pedagogic sphere.

13. Indications of programme quality

- University Academic Review
- External examiners reports
- First Destination careers statistics
- Exemptions from professional exams (subject to satisfactory completion of certain core or optional modules):
 - Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA)
 - Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA)
