10. Progression points

This programme follows the standard Scheme of Progression set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

Students are required to complete 120 credits of taught modules delivered over two semesters each academic year (a total of 60 credits must be studied in each semester).

Students are required to pass the Foundations of Legal Knowledge (FLK) modules at Honours level, with a minimum mark of 40.00. These modules are not eligible for compensation. The FLK modules are:

- LW1120 - Constitutional and Administrative Law
- LW1130 - Contract Law
- LW2220 - Criminal Law
- LW2240/LW2242 -Law of EU-UK Relations
- LW2410 - The Law of Tort (Advanced)
- LW3370 - Equity and Trusts (Advanced)
- LW3392 - Land Law (Advanced)

Application to Transfer to LLB Law with Criminology (with a Year Abroad)

Students may apply to transfer to the LLB with a Year Abroad after successful completion of the first year and subsequent successful completion of the second year.

The application process is handled by the University's Study Abroad Unit. For the aims, learning outcomes and application criteria for the GSCA Year Abroad please see the information here. It is the student's responsibility to apply for a year abroad, and to comply in full with the preparation process.

Course transfers

Students who have passed first or second year assessments of the LLB Law with Criminology may, on giving notice in writing to the School not later than the beginning of the first semester of the next academic year, transfer to the second or final year of the LLB in Law, as the case may be.

Students transferring to the final year of the LLB in Law shall be credited with the 30 credits obtained in Criminology modules in the second year and these credits will be attributed to the Part 1 Final Examination.

Students may apply to transfer to the LLB Law with Criminology (with a Year Abroad) during year 2.

11. Criteria for award and classification

This programme follows the standard scheme of undergraduate award and classification set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry. Note: legal foundation modules must be passed at 40%.

12. Special features

The LLB Law with Criminology (with a Year Abroad) provides for students spending their third year at one of our partner institutions and then returning to Leicester for their final year. More information is available via the Study Abroad Unit

Please note that availability at the partner institutions varies each year and we cannot guarantee places at the destinations listed.

Students for the LLB with a Year Abroad degree must apply originally through UCAS for the LLB degree. Applications to transfer on to the LLB with a Year Abroad degree are made during year 2.

12a. Research-inspired Education

Students on this programme will advance through the four quadrants of the University of Leicester Research-inspired Education Framework as follows:

RiE Quadrant	Narrative
Research-briefed Bringing staff research content into the curriculum.	The programme provides students with a comprehensive and academically rigorous legal education. It provides students with the necessary legal knowledge and transferable skills (legal reasoning, critical thinking, writing, research, and problem solving) to pursue a career as a legal professional or in a variety of other professions. The programme is research-informed in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Research-briefed: Students will be exposed to thought-provoking and challenging learning, informed by and drawing upon seminal and contemporary legal research, including research conducted by experts at Leicester Law School.

RiE Quadrant	Narrative
Research-based Framed enquiry for exploring existing knowledge.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research-based: Students will engage with problem-based scenarios that will challenge them to critically apply substantive legal principles to real-world contexts. This approach provides students with the opportunity to explore foundational legal concepts and both primary and secondary sources of legal knowledge while simultaneously evaluating their interaction within contemporary social, economic, and political contexts.
Research-oriented Students critique published research content and process.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research-oriented: Students will read and analyse academic journal articles and books, including work authored by experts at Leicester Law School, to develop their knowledge and explore different perspectives that enhance their skills of critical thinking and application of the law. Students are given guidance and training on how to critically appraise published research and develop their legal reasoning.
Research-apprenticed Experiencing the research process and methods; building new knowledge.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research-apprenticed: students will be provided with training and practice on reading primary and secondary sources of law, academic and professional legal writing, group work, presentation skills, and library skills (searching legal databases and referencing).

As part of studying at a research-intensive university, students on this programme have the following extra or co-curricular opportunities available to them to gain exposure to research culture:

Students are exposed to the research culture of the Law School within the curriculum; many academic staff produce internationally-leading and world-leading research that is embedded within the curriculum. Extra-curricularly, students are able to attend inaugural lectures, and final year students are invited to talks and events, by internal and external speakers, relevant to their optional modules.

Teaching on this programme will be research-informed (it draws consciously on systematic inquiry into the teaching and learning process itself) in the following way:

The School supports all staff involved in teaching to gain an accredited Higher Education teaching qualification, in which they demonstrate their use of teaching theory to support their own practice and reflect on their current teaching and continuing professional development.

Teaching on this programme is research-informed in two ways. First, a proportion of academic staff are involved in the production of internationally-leading and world-leading pedagogical research, which is shared with colleagues and, where relevant and appropriate, incorporated into the learning and teaching methods employed throughout the curriculum. Secondly, the Law School hosts away-days and workshops to support the pedagogical development of academic staff and their teaching and learning materials. These events include a legal education research cluster, a 'teaching club' where staff discuss and share best pedagogical practices and recent developments, and talks from external educational leaders.

13. Indications of programme quality

- Performance in the National Student Survey
- External examiners' reports
- Degree results and career destination statistics
- Annual Development Review reports
- Periodic Development Review reports
- Peer review of teaching and peer review of marking exercises
- Student-Staff Committee feedback
- Module Feedback

14. External Examiner(s) reports

The details of the External Examiner(s) for this programme and the most recent External Examiners' reports for this programme can be found at exampapers@Leicester [log-in required]
