BA Modern Languages with Translation with a year abroad (7Q19)

2. Awarding body or institution:

University of Leicester

3. a) Mode of study: Full-Time

b) Type of study: Campus based

4. Registration periods:

The normal period of registration is four years, including a full academic session abroad in the third year (three years, in exceptional circumstances, without year abroad). The maximum period of registration is six years.

5. Typical entry requirements:

A Level: Three A levels (ABB/BBB) or equivalent.

Students taking Modern Languages and/or with Translation BA must have an A-level (minimum grade B) or equivalent in the modern language that they wish to study (French, Spanish or Italian). If studying two modern languages they must have an A-level (minimum grade B) or equivalent in one of these, and can take the second language at Beginners level.

This programme also includes a unique pathway Modern Languages and Translation BA for Chinese/Arabic native speakers, whereby they can learn French, Italian or Spanish at Beginners level (if they do not have an A-level equivalent in one of those languages), while practicing translation to and from English and their first language (Chinese or Arabic). For non-native English speakers, one A-level equivalent must be in English.

European Baccalaureate Pass with 77% overall. (including grade 8 in any required languages and grade 6 in English)

International Baccalaureate Pass Full Diploma with 30 points overall. (including grade 6 at HL in any required languages). Must meet English Language requirements.

6. Accreditation of Prior Learning:

Students who hold the Chartered Institute of Linguists Diploma in Public Service Interpreting for French, Spanish or Italian (or other languages to be offered for translating/interpreting in the future) with Merit or Distinction, or equivalent qualifications will not be required to take the BA Translation Modules "Introduction to interpreting", "Introduction to translating" and "Consecutive interpreting".

Students who hold the Chartered Institute of Linguists Diploma in Translation for French, Italian or Spanish (or other languages to be offered for translating/interpreting in the future) with Merit or Distinction, or equivalent qualifications, will not be required to take the BA Translation Modules “Introduction to interpreting” (15 credits), “Introduction to translating” (15 credits), “Practical Translation 1” (15 credits), “Practical Translation 2” (15 credits) and “Advanced Translation” (15 credits).

It is not possible to claim Accreditation of Prior Learning for both qualifications together.

The Prior Learning Accreditation will not be graded.

For the Modern Languages and/or with Translation BA programmes, APL will not be accepted for exemptions from individual modules, however may be considered for direct entry to year 2, on a case by case and subject to the general provisions of the University APL policy.

7. Programme aims:

The programme aims to ensure that upon completion of their period of study students have:

- to equip all students with a high degree of proficiency, both written and spoken, in their chosen European language and to provide them with an in-depth cultural knowledge of the countries where that language is spoken, through a programme of progressive linguistic and cultural studies tuition based on authentic documentation, texts and film in those languages, and exposure to native speakers.
- To enable all students to acquire advanced textual analysis skills.
- To enable all students to acquire advanced translation skills.
- To provide all students with a solid foundation in interpreting.
- To generate enhanced intercultural awareness amongst the degree candidates.
- To facilitate the acquisition of explicit knowledge and understanding of the functions of language.
- To enable students to acquire an understanding of the translation profession.
- To develop in the degree cohort a critical awareness of key ideas and concepts from the two fields of Modern Languages Studies and Translation Studies.
- To stimulate problem-solving skills by promoting the ability to question, and to discuss and develop coherent arguments.
- To provide stimuli and the skills of research, analysis and presentation necessary for further study at postgraduate level where appropriate.
- To develop the transferable skills required for autonomous learning and which ensure the employability of graduates

Intended Learning Outcomes	Teaching and Learning Methods	How Demonstrated?
(viii) Skills for lifelong learning
Strategies for self-monitoring and continued maintenance and development of skills in target languages.	Skills for lifelong learning will be acquired by way of the programme as a whole, as its ethos and aims are very much focused on life after university. Translators and interpreters must continuously update their linguistic, cultural and subject knowledge, and this will be emphasised throughout the programme classes and activities. Students will therefore be equipped to continue their professional and personal development through the metalinguistic awareness they develop via language classes and via tasks designed to expand target language repertoire.	Research tasks.
Effectiveness and self-awareness as an independent learner.		Independent, critical and analytical reading and viewing.
The ability to undertake self-directed study and learning, with appropriate time-management.		Language and translation assignments.
The ability to work independently to reinforce, consolidate and update their language and translation skills.		Students' ability to self-correct.
		The successful completion of the translation project and the dissertation/extended essay in particular, since these – and especially the dissertation/extended essay – encourage independent research and thought

10. Progression points:

This degree programme follows the University's standard progression rules set out in Senate Regulation 5. However, all core language modules must be passed in order to progress to the following year of the programme and must be passed at Honours level (40%+). Final Year core language programmes must be passed at Honours level in order to graduate.

11. Scheme of Assessment

This programme follows the standard scheme of award and classification set out in Senate Regulation 5

12. Special features

This is an innovative programme which allows undergraduate students who have A-level (or equivalent) skills in French, Italian or Spanish to combine the advancement of their modern language studies with training in the practical skills required to translate (mainly) and (to a lesser degree) interpret from and into those languages.

This programme also includes a unique pathway for Chinese/Arabic native speakers, whereby they can learn French, Italian or Spanish at Beginners level (if they do not have an A-level equivalent in one of those languages), while learning and practicing translation to and from English and their first language (Chinese or Arabic).

Consolidation of linguistic skills and opportunity for cultural enrichment is provided at an early stage of the course through a three-week summer programme in France, Italy or Spain at the end of Year 1, involving tuition from native speakers at a University and complete linguistic immersion through accommodation with local families.

The opportunity of a total immersion in the target language and culture by the provision of a year-long stay in a country where the target language is spoken during the third year. For the processes in place for the year abroad, see Appendix 1.

The opportunity for further development of autonomous study skills in universities abroad following a guided programme of learning for the period spent abroad.

Students will be offered the opportunity to take a certification test in the use of the translation memory software, TRADOS, with guidance from teaching staff in preparation for the test.

In terms of the practical requirements of these two degree programmes, a suite of recently refurbished language laboratories and a self-access language learning centre are available, and TRADOS and subtitling software can be accessed on dedicated computers. A suite of 5 interpreting booths, housing 10 students in total, has recently been acquired.

One of the special features of these two degree programmes is that students will have a chance in their final year to conduct a piece of independent research and/or to take part in simulating different roles in professional translation workflow. Both of which are designed to develop students' generic skills in problem solving, communicating, information gathering and working either independently and/or as a team.

13. Indications of programme quality

External examiners' reports consistently emphasize the quality of the student learning experience and the high standard of teaching and of assessment. They also favourably comment on the careful design of our modules' intended learning outcomes and their meeting the requirements of the QAA benchmark statements in all its key elements.

Modern Languages at Leicester achieves regularly very high scores in the National Student Survey. In the 2017 NSS Modern Languages achieved an overall satisfaction score of 97.4% (JACS subject area of 'European Languages and Area Studies'). Students' comments praise in particular the vibrant and supportive student-staff community within Modern Languages.

Modern Languages at Leicester was ranked 8th nationally in the Guardian university league table 2017.

95% of the School's research is recognised internationally.

14. External Examiners

The details of the Modern Languages External Examiner(s) for this programme and the most recent External Examiners' reports can be found at exam-papers.

Appendix 1: Programme structure (programme regulations)

Students on the Modern Languages and Translation programme of study will take one language (French, Italian or Spanish) at advanced level. However, Chinese/Arabic native speakers, who do not have an A-level equivalent in one of those languages), can take French, Italian or Spanish at Beginners level, while studying translation to and from English and their first language (Chinese or Arabic).

Students on the Modern Languages with Translation programme of study will take two languages. For students taking Modern Languages WITH translation, there are two main routes through the core language modules in this programme: One for students with well-developed abilities in a language other than English and their native language, and one for students without such abilities. The former group of students take the programme with advanced language skills; the latter group of students take the programme ab initio. For example, an advanced French student will take FR1010 Advanced French Language in year 1, followed by FR2010 Post-Advanced French Language in year 2. A beginners level student will take FR1020 French Beginners and FR1021 French Beginners in year 1 followed by FR2018 French Post-Beginners in year 2. Please see the diagrams below.

Notes:

- 1) Optional modules are listed at the end of each year; they may be subject to change from year to year and will not run if under-recruiting.
- 2) Students whose native language is either French, Italian or Spanish, and who wish to study this language as part of their degree programme at Leicester will normally be required to substitute for the core language modules (FR1010 or IT1010 or SP1010) 30 credits of ELTU modules from the following optional modules (as available): EL1005 Academic Writing; EL1007 Academic Speaking; EL2011 Pronunciation; EL2012 Vocabulary; EL2013 Grammar; EL2025 Language and Media. Students with native speaker fluency in both English, and the language they wish to study as part of their degree programme at Leicester, will be required to substitute 30 credits of cultural modules taken from the range on offer in the relevant language or ML modules for the relevant core language modules.

MODERN LANGUAGES AND TRANSLATION

FIRST YEAR

Students are required to attend a compulsory three-week summer school (ML2007: Modern Language Summer School, 0 credits), organised by the School of Modern Languages and in the language they are studying, during the long vacation at the end of the first year.

Selection will be based on the student's prior academic performance and the strength of the research plans that they are able to present.

MODERN LANGUAGES WITH TRANSLATION

Students who begin this programme of study will take two languages (from French, Italian and Spanish - at least one of which must be at advanced level, the other may be taken ab initio). In Year 2, students may continue with both languages or, alternatively, they may choose to study one language only (which must be a language taken at advanced level in Year 1). Please see the diagram below.

FIRST YEAR

Students are required to attend a compulsory three-week summer school (ML2007: Modern Language Summer School, 0 credits), organised by the School of Modern Languages and in one of the languages they are studying, during the long vacation at the end of the first year.
