Access to HE Courses:

Pass relevant Access to Higher Education course with 45 level 3 credits including 30 at distinction. Also evidence of A2 level capacity in a foreign language.

Other national and international qualifications welcomed.

Mature students welcomed. Alternative qualifications considered for mature students.

6. Accreditation of Prior Learning

APL will not be accepted for exemptions from individual modules, however may be considered for direct entry to year 2, on a case by case and subject to the general provisions of the University APL policy.

7. Programme aims

The programme aims:

- To equip all students with a high degree of proficiency, both written and spoken, in their chosen languages, and to provide them with a good understanding of the target countries, and of other countries where those languages may be used, through a programme of progressive tuition based on authentic documentation, texts and film in those languages, and exposure to native speakers.
- To develop a critical understanding of modern management analysis, ideas and practices and their relevance to a variety of institutional and organisational contexts; to develop quantitative, communications and information technology skills, and the ability to apply these in organisational contexts.
- To equip students with subject-specific and transferable skills in preparation for employment in a wide area, particularly in international management (including marketing, human resource management, finance and accountancy) in the private and public sectors and voluntary organizations; also in other fields where high-level modern language skills can be deployed, such as teaching, journalism, publishing, translating, commerce, travel and tourism etc.
- To develop critical awareness of key ideas and concepts.
- To stimulate problem-solving skills by promoting the ability to question, and to discuss and develop coherent arguments.
- To provide stimuli and the skills of research, analysis and presentation necessary for further study at postgraduate level where appropriate.
- To develop the skills required for autonomous learning.

11. Criteria for award and classification

This programme follows the standard scheme of undergraduate award and classification set out in Senate Regulations – see the version of Senate Regulation 5 governing undergraduate programmes relevant to the year of entry.

12. Special features

Optional Summer school in one of the target countries at the end of Year One.

Combination of linguistic skills and market-orientated knowledge.

Opportunity for total immersion in the target language(s) and culture(s) by the provision of an optional year abroad spent as appropriate in the country or countries of the language(s) studied into the final year.

Opportunity for the development of study skills in target country universities following a guided programme of learning for the period spent abroad.

12a. Research-inspired Education

Students on this programme will advance through the four quadrants of the University of Leicester Research-inspired Education Framework as follows:

RiE Quadrant	Narrative
Research-briefed Bringing staff research content into the curriculum.	The programme provides a thorough grounding in literary and cultural analysis, as well as in critical theories, through a thematically anchored, comparative analysis of cultural responses to a range of global, real-world issues. It draws on international and multilingual research, ensuring that the knowledge and skills our graduates acquire through the programme will have applications across the world.
Research-based Framed enquiry for exploring existing knowledge.	· Research briefed: The students will be exposed to challenging learning, inspired and informed by cutting-edge research, by drawing on the internationally renowned research of experts from the department of Modern Languages and the School of Business at the University of Leicester. All staff teaching on the programme are engaged in research and bring their experiences into their teaching.
Research-oriented Students critique published research content and process.	· Research based: Lectures, seminars and assessments are based on current research, putting diverse -and, sometimes, conflicting- discursive approaches into context. · Research oriented: Students are required to critically appraise both primary and secondary sources in both seminars and assessment. They are given guidance and training in how to critically appraise published research, for instance through participation in seminar discussions and/or through formative exercises.
Research-apprenticed Experiencing the research process and methods; building new knowledge.	· Research apprenticed: Students will experience the research process and methods and build new knowledge through engagement with a range of final year modules, designed according to staff research expertise. They will research and create content for the different assessments through a process that combines all four of the Research-inspired Education framework quadrants. Training and practice will be provided on reading research articles, library skills, selecting and drafting a bibliography, essay writing, group work and presentation skills. Students will work individually and in groups to present their findings from their analysis and critical appraisals, via individual and group oral group presentations and individually written essays.

As part of studying at a research-intensive university, students on this programme have the following extra or co-curricular opportunities available to them to gain exposure to research culture:

Students are invited to attend research seminar series hosted by their two Schools (Arts, Media and Communication and Business). Students are also encouraged to attend the University's annual literary festival, Literary Leicester, held in March, which gives them the opportunity to meet and attend readings by contemporary authors in English and other languages.

Finally, students are encouraged to participate in student-staff research collaboration, contributing, for example, to projects such as the Modern Languages Gender Inclusive Language Policy or the Gen Z Francophone Dictionary: Le Franc-Parler/Speaking Frankly.

Teaching on this programme will be research-informed (it draws consciously on systematic inquiry into the teaching and learning process itself) in the following way:

The Pedagogy Forum of the School of Arts, Media and Communication (AMC), held every semester, supports staff to deliver educational best practice through reports back from teaching conferences, talks from external educational speakers, and by offering a platform for staff to share evaluations of their own teaching practice.

Additionally, members of AMC have also been supported by successful applications for Teaching Development Fund awards, which have enabled them to develop innovative teaching experiences, such as the initiatives identified in Sub-section ii.

13. Indications of programme quality

External examiners' reports consistently emphasize the quality of the student learning experience and the high standard of teaching and of assessment. They also favourably comment on the careful design of our modules' intended learning outcomes and their meeting the requirements of the QAA benchmark statements in all its key elements.

Modern Languages at Leicester achieves regularly very high scores in the National Student Survey. In the 2017 NSS Modern Languages achieved an overall satisfaction score of 97.4% (JACS subject area of 'European Languages and Area Studies'). Students' comments praise in particular the vibrant and supportive student-staff community within Modern Languages.

Modern Languages at Leicester was ranked 8th nationally in the Guardian university league table 2017.

95% of the School's research is recognised internationally.

14. External Examiner(s) reports

Modern Languages with Management BA

Students have the choice of studying one or two languages. For one language, students take 90 credits of language and cultural studies modules in that language (French or Spanish) together with 30 credits of Management modules throughout. For two languages, students take 45 credits of language and cultural studies modules in each of two languages (French, Italian, Chinese or Spanish), one of which may be commenced at Beginners level, together with 30 credits of Management modules throughout. Students taking the two-language route through the degree may opt for the one-language route at the end of year 1, if that language is French or Spanish. Please note Italian and Chinese cannot be taken in this route.

There are two main routes through the language modules on this programme: One for students with well-developed abilities in a language other than English and their native language, and one for students without such abilities. The former group of students take the programme with advanced language skills; the latter group of students take the programme ab initio. For example, an advanced French student will take FR1010 Advanced French Language in year 1, followed by FR2010 Post-Advanced French Language in year 2. A beginners level student will take FR1040 French Language Beginners in year 1 followed by FR2018 French Post-Beginners in year 2. These students will be taught together in final year language groups. The same pattern applies to other languages except Chinese, can only be taken on the ab initio route and in final year will reach an Upper-Intermediate level. Please see the diagrams below.

Notes:

- a) Optional modules are listed at the end of each year; they may be subject to change from year to year and will not run if under-recruiting.
- b) Students whose native language is either French, Italian or Spanish, and who wish to study this language as part of their degree programme at Leicester, will normally be required to substitute 30 credits of ELTU modules from the range EL2001-EL2024 for the core language modules (FR1010 or IT1010 or SP1010). Students with native speaker fluency in both English, and the language they wish to study as part of their degree programme at Leicester, will be required to substitute 30 credits of cultural modules taken from the range on offer in the relevant language or ML or TS modules for the relevant core language modules. From Year Two, these students will rejoin core language modules, as their learning objectives are pertinent to all ML students, regardless of linguistic background.

FIRST YEAR

Students are advised to attend an optional two-week summer school, partly organised by the School of Modern Languages and in one of the languages they are studying, during the long vacation at the end of the first year. Students studying at beginner's level should go to the summer school in that language.

Students wishing to take ML2008 Independent Project should not that this is available by successful application to the Section Coordinator only. Selection will be based on the student's prior academic performance and the strength of the research plans that they are able to present.

This is an indicative list of option modules and not definitive of what will be available. Option module choice is also subject to availability, timetabling, student number restrictions and, where appropriate, students having taken appropriate pre-requisite modules.

Year 3 – Year abroad 2027/28

Students can opt to spend a full academic session abroad between the second and final years, following approved courses at a university in France, Belgium, Canada, Switzerland, Italy, Spain or Latin America (Mexico, Colombia), or alternatively as an assistant in a school in one of those countries. Students also have the option of doing a work placement, subject to departmental approval.

The optional Year Abroad will be assessed on a Pass/Fail basis, with students required to complete the period of residence abroad and to demonstrate engagement in their studies (through the transcript from their host University or equivalent) or placement (via a traineeship certificate or equivalent). Failure to meet those requirements will not preclude progression into final year, but will mean the student graduates without a Year Abroad.

Notes

Language specific options (coded FR/IT/SP) can only be taken by students studying that language. ML-coded optional modules can be taken by students studying any language. Students wishing to undertake an extended project (ML3176 Extended Project) in final year should note that this is available by successful application to the Section Coordinator only. Selection will be based on the student's prior academic performance and the strength of the research plans that they are able to present.

This is an indicative list of option modules and not definitive of what will be available. Option module choice is also subject to availability, timetabling, student number restrictions and, where appropriate, students having taken appropriate pre-requisite modules.
