The programme aims to [write for the student audience]

The Politics single pathway aims to:

- provide a rigorous, coherent and attractive curriculum in Politics that draws on the Department's research expertise and teaching strengths;
- provide a supportive, stimulating and challenging learning experience for students;
- ensure that students acquire a good knowledge and understanding of a range of theoretical approaches in Politics;
- enable students to understand and apply theories and concepts to analyse and explain historical and contemporary developments in Politics;
- develop in students a capacity to think critically about a range of key analytical issues in Politics, particularly in political theory, government and international relations;
- provide students with a solid knowledge of key areas in and understanding of the main developments in Politics since 1945 so that they are able to account for the historical origins of contemporary politics;
- provide students with the knowledge and skills to think critically about contemporary developments in politics;
- assist students to develop a range of cognitive and social skills relevant to their intellectual, vocational and personal development;
- equip graduates with skills of research and analysis as a foundation for further study at postgraduate level in Politics, International Relations and cognate disciplines.

For those on the Year Abroad:

- provide an opportunity for Leicester students to spend their third year abroad, studying at a partner institution in Europe as part of the European Erasmus framework exchange program or a partner institution on another continent as part of the Study Abroad exchange programme;
- develop study skills in another university following a guided programme of learning for the period spent abroad;
- provide an opportunity for exchange students from partner institutions in another country to study in the United Kingdom;
- provide and build on links between the University of Leicester and its partner institutions
- develop an awareness of politics education in another country;
- develop a critical understanding of the national, international and European politics;
- develop an appreciation of the different approaches to the study of politics adopted by different types of scholars both in the United Kingdom and abroad;
- develop linguistic skills in a European language if the student goes to a partner university where the teaching language is not English.

10. Progression points

As defined in Senate Regulation 5: Regulations governing undergraduate programmes of study.

In cases where a student has failed to meet a requirement to progress he or she will be required to withdraw from the course.

Application to Transfer from BA Politics to BA Politics with a Year Abroad

Students are invited to apply at the end of their first year to transfer to the BA Politics with a Year Abroad.

Progression from 2nd year to year abroad

Students may progress to the year abroad with no more than 30 credits of failed modules in year 2. Good attendance and observation of academic obligations must continue to be maintained throughout year 2. Failure to do so may result in the opportunity to study abroad being withdrawn and the student being transferred to the BA Politics (without year abroad) or withdrawn from the course entirely.

For the year abroad year students are required to complete the equivalent of 60 ECTS if studying at a European partner institution.

For a student to progress to the final year of the BA with a Year Abroad programme the following will apply:

- i) If the student is studying and being assessed in a foreign language he/she has to pass at least half of his/her second semester modules in the partner institution. This requirement emphasises that the year abroad is to be taken seriously as a period of study but is not so onerous as to negatively impact students on this programme. If a student has failed to pass half the credits in his/her second semester during the year abroad, including resit options as per the partner institution's rules, by the September Board of Examiners, the Board will consider whether the student should have to transfer on to the BA Politics (without year abroad) for their final year, taking their overall attendance and observation of academic obligations into consideration.
- ii) If the student is studying and being assessed in English he/she has to achieve an average of 50% for the whole year. If a student has failed to achieve an average of 50% for the year, including resit options as per the partner institution's rules, by the September Board of Examiners, the Board will consider whether the student should have to transfer on to the BA Politics (without year abroad) for their final year, taking their overall attendance and observation of academic obligations into consideration.
- iii) If the student is studying and being assessed in a combination of English and a Foreign Language the progression rules used will be based on the language used to teach the majority of modules. Therefore, if the majority of modules are taught in English the rules described in ii) above will apply, and if the majority of modules are taught in a Foreign Language the rules described in i) above will apply.

The year abroad will not contribute towards the overall classification, and will therefore be assessed on a pass or fail basis.

11. Scheme of Assessment:

Scheme of Assessment: This programme follows the standard scheme of award and classification set out in Senate Regulation 5.

12. Scheme of Assessment

Scheme of Assessment: This programme follows the standard scheme of award and classification set out in Senate Regulation 5

13. Key/extra features:

Students' learning experience is enhanced by the School's strong commitment to developing synergy between its research and teaching activities.

Students may apply to transfer to the BA Politics with a Year Abroad after successful completion of the first year and subsequent successful completion of the second year.

The BA Politics with a Year Abroad provides for students spending their third year at one of our partner institutions and then returning to Leicester for their final year.

14. Indications of programme quality

External Examiners' reports have consistently praised the programme, highlighting the range of modules and variety of assessment methods.

THIRD YEAR (YEAR ABROAD)

The third year will be spent abroad either taking approved courses amounting to 120 Leicester credits in an institution associated with the Department of Politics and International Relations under the Erasmus framework student mobility programme, (European institutions), or under the University's Study Abroad programme (institutions outside the European Union). Students will be required to complete the approved courses satisfactorily. Passing examinations in those courses shall be regarded as evidence of the students having completed them satisfactorily. Students who, in the opinion of the Board of Examiners, have not satisfactorily followed the approved courses at the overseas institution will not normally be allowed to proceed to the final year of the course, but may be permitted to transfer to the final year of BA Politics without year abroad.

The year abroad will not contribute towards the overall classification, and will therefore be assessed on a pass or fail basis.
